

Charity – Stephanie James. Introduced by Vice Principal Kirsty Farrar

As a Year 7 student at the age of 12, Stephanie decided not only to donate money to a children's cancer charity but also to have her long blonde hair chopped off for charity and along with her younger sister, Izzy they donated their pony tails to help make children's wigs for young patients who have suffered hair loss. The money raised went to The Little Princess Trust Charity.

From Grace Smith, Stephanie's Head of Year last year: "Stephanie is a student who always putting others before herself. She can always be counted on to help you out if you are in need of a helping hand.

"Throughout her time at KSA Stephanie has always led by example working hard in her academic work whilst balancing this with her fantastic extra-curricular exploits.

"She is hardworking and an absolute credit to her family and friends. We at KSA are so very proud of all her accomplishments and we know that this is just the start of more amazing things to come."

Well done Stephanie!
